WORKSHOP

PLIOCENE – PLEISTOCENE CONTINENTAL DEPOSITS OF NORTHERN APENNINES

16th – 18th June 2017, Perugia, Italy

Aim of the workshop

Organized in the frame of the Meeting of GeoSed-SGI, (Perugia, 16-20 June), the workshop is based in Perugia (Department Physics and Geology) with transfers to Florence and Siena surroundings during fieldtrips. It focuses on alluvial and travertine deposits accumulated in extensional Pliocene to Pleistocene basins. The workshop is open to GeoSed-SGI and BSRG student members and includes fieldtrips, lectures and sections for open discussions. The goal of this workshop experience is to allow students to exchange their ideas and develop their own international research network.

Preliminary programme

Day1. Lectures (E. Capezzuoli, University of Perugia; M. Ghinassi, University of Padova): geology of Northern Apennines, introduction to fieldtrip areas, student presentations (summary of MSc and PhD projects)

Day2. Fieldtrip: Alluvial deposits of the Pliocene – Pleistocene Upper Valdarno Basin (Leader M. Ghinassi)

Day3. Fieldtrip: Pleistocene Travertine deposits of the Siena Basin (Leader E. Capezzuoli)

Dates

31 March 2017 - Application Deadline

30 April 2017 - Registration Fee Payment Deadline
